INTERNATIONAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

As an international investor looking to establish a presence in the United States, we understand that you encounter numerous challenges. Navigating an unfamiliar landscape of legal, financial, and cultural systems can be an overwhelming task, and the potential for missteps is significant without the right guidance. That's why we have created the International Assistance Program – a network of resources for international companies expanding in the U.S.

WHAT IS THE INTERNATIONAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM?

The International Assistance Program is a one-stop shop of essential resources for companies expanding to the United States. The network includes a vetted list of companies who exhibit best-in-class services and have proven experience working with international firms.

While a company's U.S. market entry strategy will vary depending on your company's industry, current customer base, project financing, etc.; there are many shared similarities and considerations for international companies expanding to the United States for the first time. These can include: "What are the legal requirements for incorporating my company in the U.S.?", "What are the labor laws and regulations in the U.S.?", "What are estimated costs for U.S. commercial real estate?", "Which visa(s) should be acquired in order to work legally in the U.S.?", "How do employee benefits differ from my home country?", "What are the federal and local tax implications for my business?", etc. These are examples of the types of questions the International Assistance Program can help answer.

Our International Assistance Program partners are experienced professionals with demonstrated excellence working with global companies. They are also energized to support and encourage future investment, like yours, in the U.S. capital of Washington, DC. Let us connect you with the right people to support your growth to the United States.
